DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claims 2 and 5-8 are objected to because of the following informalities and it is suggested to applicant

In claim 2 line 3 insert "CDMA channel for" after -the set of-.

In claim 3 line 8 insert "said" before -data-

In claims 5-7 line 3 insert "said" before -burst packet-switched channels-.

In claim 8 line replace "a plurality of -with said plurality of-, in line 2 insert "said" before -SSs-.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

2. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Kokko.

US patent No. 6,005,852 (Kokko et al) discloses a Load control method and apparatus for CDMA cellular system having circuit and packet switched terminals comprising a method for operating a communication system, comprising steps of: flexibly allocating Code Division Multiple Access (CDMA) channel resources (There exist no fixed allocation of resources but all of the resources can be given to either of services. This guarantees the flexibility of the system

Art Unit: 2661

10 in Fig. 1) between packet-switched shared channels (packet-switched channels, col7 line 18) and circuit-switched dedicated channels (circuit-switched channels, col 7 lines 16-17 in order to optimize system throughput(by dynamically/flexibly controlling load in the network); and employing a side channel as required to send all or a part of a tot amount of data, depending on the total amount of the data , as in claim 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kokko in view of Rotstein.

US patent No. 6,005,852 (Kokko et al) discloses a Load control method and apparatus for CDMA cellular system having circuit and packet switched terminals wherein a bandwidth allocation scheme allocates a set of CDMA channels for burst packet-switched channels, and where data is time division multiplexed over the set of burst packet-switched channels (an alternate embodiment discloses data being time multiplexed, col 11 lines 57-58) providing a wide bandwidth data pipe for packet-switched data.,

Kokko did not specifically disclose said subscriber stations being equipped with multiple CDMA channel receivers tuned to the burst packet-switched channels, as in claim 2.

However US patent No. 6,289,228 (Rotstein et al) discloses a Method and apparatus for reducing power consumption of a CDMA communication device, comprising a mobile device (device 104 in Fig. 2) including a plurality of receiver devices (receiver devices 122, 124 and 126 in Fig. 2), as in claim 2.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to provide the mobile device as disclosed by Rotstein to the CDMA system disclosed by Kokko with the motivation of obtaining a CDMA system that avoids the problems associated with acquiring multiple channels to see in a incoming call is present.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 3-10 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the objection to claims under 37 CFR 1.75.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
 - US patent No. 6,512,784 (Schilling) discloses an efficient sharing of capacity by remote stations using circuit switching and packet switching.
 - US patent No. 6,628,611 (Mochikuzi) disclosed a Traffic control method.
